Provo July Fourth Fete Promises Gala Week-End

For those students remaining in Provo this week-end the community July Fourth committee promises an exciting and varied program according to committeeman Seth T. Shaw, chairman of the Horticulture department and acting Director of the Extension division.

Opening the four-day celebration will be the horse races starting at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Utah County Fair grounds. Mr. Shaw, also a member of the racing committee, has assisted in bringing some of the best saddle horses to Provo for this meet. Many of the thoroughbreds have raced on such well known tracks at Santa Anita, Agua Caliente and Phoenix.

Street Dance Monday

Next Monday, horse-racing will again be on the program in the afternoon, while at 8:30 p. m. a free street dance will be held adjacent to the city and county building.

Ab Jenkins Leads Parade

Ab Jenkins, famous automobile racer, will lead the "down-town" parade at 10 a. m. on "the glorious fourth." Then, following the regular racing program at the Fair grounds in the afternoon, a stadium show with daylight fireworks will be displayed at 7:30 p. m. at the B. Y. U. stadium. Here the title of "the girl's beauty contest" will be held; several prizes awarded; and numerous other attractions offered.

Shaw Directs County Fair
Professor Shaw, besides his faculty duties, has been much in demand in an executive capacity in the community and county. Although an active member of the Provo July Fourth and Racing committee, he has also been requested to again direct the annual Utah County Fair which will be held September 2, 8, and 9, this year.

Students Make Visit to Caves

Students and faculty members explored the Timpanogas cave in American Fork canyon, and frolicked at the Hot-Pots in Provo Canyon. Saturday, in the third recreational event of the term. The group was led by Floyd Miller, head Alpinist coach, and instructor in physical education.

In addition to visiting the main passages of Timpanogas cave, and the famous "Heart of Timpanogas," the students also were conducted into the newly opened Haney caves. Many of the visitors who are attending the school from distant points, had their first view of the limestone wonders found inside the Timpanogas cave, which has been made a national monument.

After visiting the caves, the eight-seater lunch in the nearby campground, and then traveled over the Alpine scenic highway to Aspen Grove, where the students and Alpinist coach is located. From there they went to the hot-pots at Midway, and indulged in swimming for the remainder of the afternoon.

Spring Grades Now Available

Grades for the spring quarter have been recorded and are now ready for distribution according to the instructions of the Dean.

They may be had by calling at the Registrar's office in the Mesner building. Grade slips will be mailed to out-of-town students.

Students See Birds At Island

As the boat docked last night, it returned a happy group of students and faculty from the annual Bird Island voyage. Yes, there really were birds on the island, — thousands of them, ranging in size from those in the "shell" to those on the "wing."

With so many varieties of birds making the island their nesting grounds, there were still many unatched eggs, and very small birds to be found there, according to the visitors.

Faculty members of the zoology department answered questions and pointed out interesting facts. The trip furnished a new experience to most students and one that will be remembered.

Lunches were eaten on deck en route to the island. On the return voyage, a small orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Professor Charles J. Hart had charge of arrangements.

Smith Leaves on Eastern Tour

Oliver R. Smith, assistant in the Extension division and journalism department, will leave Sunday for the east where he will attend the annual pageant presentation at Palmyra, N. Y.

Before coming to B. Y. U. Mr. Smith was director of this pageant in 1937, and was author of the pageant that was presented the previous year.

He will also attend a nation-wide reunion of the Bushman family at Lancaster, Penn.

Proceeding to New York City, he will attend the New York World's Fair on Utah day, July 24. While in the east, the journalism staff member will study editorial practices of the leading newspapers and magazines in New York City, Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities.

Landscapers Back From Annual Trip

Sixteen student of landscape architecture at Brigham Young and Professor Mrs. Lavinia S. Morris, returned to Provo Sunday following a three-week trip to the Pacific northwest and the Golden Gate Exposition where the best of landscape work was studied.

The trip was the fourth annual one taken by the landscape department, but it marked the first time the northwest states have been toured. According to Professor Morris, the trip was exceptionally fine this year, with some excellent gardens and parks seen and studied.

The group went first to Montana, then to Spokane, Washington, and on to Seattle. In the latter city, many of the most beautiful gardens of the west were seen.

Visit World's Fair

In Oregon, Portland, Salem, the University of Oregon at Eugene, and Oregon State college at Corvallis were visited, and then the group went directly to the World's Fair at San Francisco. After viewing the fair, part of the group under the leadership of George H. Sneath, assistant in the department, and Mrs. Mary Sneath, clerk in the extension division, went on down the coast to Santa Barbara and Los Angeles, while Professor and Mrs. Morris and some of the students remained a few more days in San Francisco.

Those making the tour were Professor and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Sneath, Bernard Chouteau, Spring City; Calvin Boswell, Provo; Eva Hogan, Eureka; Marion Feulner, Magna; Robert Bird, Mapleton; Carl Curtis, Provo; Erith Wellman, Jensen; Ernest Reinisch, American Fork; Kenzie Chazawa, Philippines; Kay Morris, Provo; Leon Frecher, Mesquite, Nevada; and Edward Chipman, Provo.

Report of Sunday Event Is Corrected

Despite reports that activities will be held on the B. Y. U. campus this Sunday, the usual Sabbath quiet will reign, according to Dr. A. C. Lambert, dean of the summer school.

A misunderstanding as to the date of the celebration which is to be held in the Cougar stadium at the close of the Provo Fourth of July celebration, probably led to the reports. It is believed. The stadium will be closed for Tuesday, July 4, and not the preceding Sunday.

As is traditional at the Y. U. campus activities are allowed on Sunday. The tennis courts and the stadium and stadium grounds are not available for use on that day.

Students Appear At Maple Canyon Fete

Representing the B. Y. U. summer school at the annual Maple Canyon outing near Moroni last Friday afternoon were Professor Seth T. Shaw, Neal Peterson, and the secretary, Farrell Collett, Ellen Caboon.

Taking part on the program, Miss Cahoon, Alberta, Canada, played an accordion solo, Mr. Collett, Ogden, gave an illustrated "clark talk," and Mr. Laycock, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada played a clarinet solo.

Pres. Harris Cancels Southern Trip

President and Mrs. Franklin S. Harris arrived Wednesday afternoon from New York City where they have been for the past three weeks.

It is understood that their previously planned trip to Rio de Janeiro has been cancelled and Dr. Harris has been offered another assignment abroad. However, no official information will be released until a meeting this afternoon of the board of trustees.

Leah and Mildred, daughters of the president, will remain for another month in the east.

Due to an insufficient number of people who were able to conform to the previously scheduled Yellowstone trip, the excursion to the northern park has been called off, according to Professor C. J. Hart, supervisor of recreational activities.

Marshall, Clarke Heard In Physics Lecture

"The seemingly useless residues of present day sciences are the basis for mankind's future progress in applied science," it was declared by Dr. Milton Marshall of the department of physics, in speaking to summer school students at assembly in College Hall Wednesday.

Dr. Marshall substantiated this assertion by reference to experiments in the field of electricity made more than a century ago, when it had been developed into the commonplace uses of electricity in industry today.

Assisted by Dr. Robert A. Clarke, visiting professor of physics of the University of Maryland, Dr. Marshall gave a demonstration on the platform of experiments performed in the first part of the nineteenth century by Oersted and Faraday. In the reproduction of the classic experiments of these scientists, the physicist showed that (1) electricity in motion produces a magnetic field, (2) that this principle can be applied to produce motion in an electric motor.

Bulletin Is Published Entirely On Campus

Announcing courses of instruction for the school year, 1939-40, the annual catalogue of the university was issued this week. Printing and binding of the catalogue was handled entirely on the university campus for the first time. Using student help, the publication was printed, stapled and covered at the B. Y. U. press under the direction of Franklin R. Haymore, manager. The 287-page bulletin is 10 per cent larger than the catalogue last year.

A total of 1,609 courses of instruction are listed in 36 academic departments. A number of these are new courses not previously offered. Also listed in the catalogue are 159 correspondence courses, offered by the Bureau of Home Study of the University of Utah.

Twelve Thousand Issued

Copies of the catalogue are being mailed to all parts of the United States, and to practically every foreign nation, according to Kiefer B. Sauls, secretary of the university. Twelve thousand copies of the issue will be distributed, an increase of 1,000 over a year ago.

Recipients of the catalogue will be 4,000 high school graduates in the intermontain area, 2,500 undergraduate students at the university, 1,000 high school principals, school superintendents, and universities and colleges in the west.

Church officials to whom copies of the catalogue will be sent include general authorities, presidents of missions throughout the world, and presidents of seminaries and institutes in Utah, Idaho, Arizona, and Wyoming. Several thousand copies also will be sent through the president's office in answer to requests for the catalogue received by mail.

Pacific Fair Praised by Dean

Dr. Gerrit de Jong, Jr., dean of the college of fine arts, told summer school students last assembly Monday of the things to be seen at the World's Fair in San Francisco. Dean de Jong had just returned from his second trip to the Fair, having made a flying visit there for the opening early this spring.

He was especially enthusiastic about the Fine Arts Building, urging all those who attend the exposition to spend plenty of time there.

In speaking of the Beehive Estate in Hawaii, Dr. de Jong said that it has an excellent location in the center of the Western States building, but is far from the center of the Utah exhibit. He said that the L. D. S. church exhibit showed to the students a building with a miniature Salt Lake tabernacle and organ.

The dean said that the best way to approach San Francisco by auto is from the north and then over the Golden Gate bridge to the city. In taking the trip to the fair, a few days should be spent in visiting the city itself, he added.

Music for the assembly was provided by Lou Graham, who sang a soprano solo, "Schubert's Serenade" accompanied by Professor William F. Hanson.

School Teams With Nature

The Brigham Young university is ideally located with respect to its natural surroundings. Aside from its favorable social environment, the school is enhanced, it seems by the topographic variety of its physical environment. The proximity of the mountains contributes, at least, contemplation of courage and noble character. Their firmness suggests dependability. Then, on the opposite side from the campus is serene Utah Lake with its consistent message of calmness and the good-will. In the valley between these contrasting levels is the territory of man's activity both industrially, agriculturally and intellectually. This section displays a beautiful intermingling of the ability of man and the forces of nature.

And so it seems fitting that our chosen school should be supported in the promotion of the finer permanent values of life by the unaffected natural character of the country.

The Knight Watchman

It seems that the magnetic quality of the "Y" is being felt abroad. We hear that during the spring quarter, fifty out of the sixty foreign students in the process of education in Utah came to Brigham Young—bumping elbows with many students from out of the state . . . and that reminds us—we aren't doing so badly on out-of-staters in summer school! On the roster there are:

Oma LeBauer, Mesa, Arizona; a titian haired proper-bone with as much of the good old 88 as anyone has a right to have—in short, she's a sliver off the old LeBauer label!

Lenna Holman, Manassa, Colorado: (Just across the hall from the Ephraimite) who has aspirations for teaching young men and women who want to pass the bar—and we don't mean hard drinks!

Lesh Curtis, Victor, Idaho: the catnip girl on the campus—and carries with her the spirit of the real mountaineer—she'd be a delightful companion for the Timp hike!

Aithen Ostlund, Canada: likes as here in Utah, but still contends that her pet peeve is Americans who ask her to "speak some Canadian."

Gwen Keunington, "Big Piney,

Wyoming: a dark eyed little elf who is trying to find the chemical formula (mixed) for oil paints and the "Sangeat Special".

Neerah Sharp, West Virginia: a new-comer whose lovely voice and charming personality have won many friends.

We understand that some of our Knight Hall girls have applied for enrollment in the W. P. A. Task, . . . girls; are conditions so unsatisfactory here? But you haven't heard the worst yet! This application was recommended by none other than our alumni-haired recreation chairman!

We are glad to have Miss Warwick back with us again after an eleven day trip to San Antonio, Texas to attend the American Home Economics Convention. San Antonio, the seat of many historic events, intrigued her greatly with its quaint contrasts.

While enroute she visited the Carlsbad Caverns, the Petrified Forest Navajo Bridge, Grand Canyon and the Kaibab Forest, but the high spot of her trip undoubtedly

Garbled Colletchings

By Farrell Collett

This is not intended to be a sports column, but I can afford to pass up this opportunity to comment about a spectacular exhibition which happened during the week.

A veritable pitcher's battle was wasted on an empty stadium Tuesday afternoon when the beneficiaries of the summer season tucked away a rip roaring, nip and tuck softball game at the expense of the single men. The final result, after seven innings gorged and fat with errors, runs, and skinned elbows, was the magnificent score of 23 to 17. The pitcher's battle existed in the attempt of "Speedball" Stephaens of the married men to allow more runs than could the three pitchers who took their feeble turn for the un-wed aggregation.

Tallies scored so often and monotonously that the fire hydrant was called upon to quench a smoking diadem. The rubber plate at home base melted and flowed so wide that the pitchers had little difficulty in getting a strike across during the last two innings. Occasionally one of the players knocked all the out of the park in attempting to sock the ball over the saddle in Timpanogut, but the constant filled the stadium to overflowing with rather high temperature or one.

The two features of the game were probably John Landward's solo flight into the atmosphere to catch a hard hit ball in the fifth inning, and Dr. Fred C. Frey's slide into second base in the second frame. Every player on the field shone, sparkled and scintillated (with perspiration) by the time the game ended with Aon Leonard's slide into what the thought was third base.

The unweaned portion of the student body felt that the game was a farce, which cannot be duplicated, and are peeling their batting eyes for a return engagement.

Just a word about the trip to Bird Island on Utah Lake. I understand that the Japanese government is sending a military attachment here to study the aerial bombardment and strafing tactics practiced by an unformed group of gray-backed egrets.

Several cases of "moonstruck" broke out on the way home, but recovery is possible—I hope. I have heard that a building room often turns the hero into a blooming idiot—which fact inhibits me.

Next week I hope to introduce, to those unfortunate not to have met as yet, one of the most genial and likable as well as best qualified personalities on the campus, Dr. Fred C. Frey.

Until then, the password on the campus in "Hello."

Marshall, Clarke

the present decade, Dr. Marshall pointed out that the discovery of the neutron a few years ago has now been developed into a valuable treatment for cancer. "Humanity is indebted to the men who have made discoveries in pure science because these discoveries have frequently come to be used in way of utmost benefit," he said.

Mr. Marshall praised the work of the American Institute of Physics, one purpose of which he said is to gain recognition for the remarkable discoveries of contemporary American physicists.

came when she passed over the Royal Gorge from above.

Miss Wasse would like to know the identity of last week's late visitors, who, under the mistaken impression that the rear of the dormitory housed greater privacy than University Hill, inadvertently fell into a recently dug trench. Could he have realized that he was in "No Man's Land"?

The SOCIAL LIFE

Annual Reception And Tea Attracts Many Guests Wednes.

Two hundred fifty summer school students, faculty and their friends were guests at the annual Dean's Reception, held Wednesday afternoon and evening on the south lawn of the Education building.

The attractive setting among the trees was made even more lovely by lawn chairs, beach umbrellas, and coeds in semi-formal dress.

The receiving line was composed of the following: Dean and Mrs. A. C. Lambert, Dean of Mrs. A. N. Merrill, Dean and Mrs. T. L. Martin, Dean and Mrs. Gerrit de Jong, Dr. Robert Clark, James A. Nuttall, and the student officers Will Stevens, Connie Kelly, and Bob Bussell.

With Miss Margaret Summerhayes as mistress of ceremonies the following program was presented:

"Summer Is A Comin' In"—Composers unknown, Ladies Quartet: Luc Groesbeck, Adria Walker, Bernice Holt, and Maxine Nichols.

"Surely the Time for Making Songs Has Come"—Rogers; Evann Madson accompanied by Florence Todd Britch.

Instrumental ensemble, under the direction of Professor LeRoy Robertson.

"Song of India"—Rimsky Korsakoff, arranged by Victor Harris, solo by Luc Groesbeck, accompanied by the following chorus: Helra Sutton, Delia Folger, Julia Thorlund, Ardis Walker, Elodia Ashworth, Maxine Nichols, Bernice Holt, and Mrs. Lyle Anders Hall.

(a) "The Lord Is My Shepherd" (b) "Stars of the Summer Night," B. Y. faculty male quartette, composed of Elmo Coffman, Arlel Ralph, Royden Braithwaite, and Ralph Britch.

(c) "Habenaria" (Carmen) by Bisset, (d) "To a Messenger," La-Forge. Solos by Bernice Holt, Ar-compared by Lyle Anders Hall (a) "Albion's Hallelujah," Fimil (b) "Old King Cole," Forsythie Ladies' quartette, "Neapolitan Nights," Zamrockin' Ladies' glee club, accompanied by Clara White Carter.

Refreshments were served under direction of Miss Allie Dadian who had arranged the table which was covered with a white madras cloth. The centerpiece of regal lilies, delphinium, climbing roses, and lily of the valley. Mrs. Irene S. Barlow and Mrs. Stella Rich poured from lovely silver services at either end of the Misses Helen Weeks, Elizabeth table. Coeds who served were Thurman, Esther Wilden, Nadia Ellsworth, Maxine Hansen, Mary Kirkham, Ruth Lambert and Gladys Boswell.

Mrs. A. C. Lambert was general chairman of the affair and was assisted by the student council.

Knight Hall Sets Open House Thurs.

"Open House" will be held Thursday evening from 7:30 till 9:30 at the Knight Hall, popular girls' dormitory, where faculty, students and friends will be guests of the student residents, according to chairman Farrell Collett and Beth Taft.

A short variety program has been planned and refreshments will be served to the visitors.

Other committee members assisting with arrangements are Gladys Kotter, Jay Oldford, Neil Peterson, Hyrum Thurgerson, Alton Higgs, Mae Jensen and Bob Bussell.

Use of Movies, Slides, Explained

A sound film entitled "Overcoming Limitations to Learning," was shown to summer school students Wednesday at 3:30, by Thomas Peterson, specialist in the extension division.

Because of the need for professional knowledge in this field, Mr. Peterson said, this picture makes a substantial contribution to classes in teaching method and in visual instruction, as well as to teachers in service. Brigham Young university has a complete library of sound films, having procured them from the Epril Sound Film Company, one of the outstanding producers of educational films.

The film Wednesday illustrated methods to be followed in the use of sound films. Units of instruction at the intermediate, junior high and senior high school levels were shown.

Use of glass slides and of the new-type projector in which they are shown will be demonstrated by Mr. Peterson at Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. in 260E.

You have really missed some thing if you haven't taken one of Professor Rowe's classes in English Literature on the Romantic Period in England.

Overheard in the book store. Nell: This little book will do half your work for you. George Strebel: O. K. I'll take two.

Well, it will soon be summer, and we will not have any more of these cool afternoons like we have this week.

Informal Dance Set For Thursday

Another one of those "fun" dances will be held next Thursday in the Women's Gym, according to Bob Bussell, astute-dancing social chairman of the 1939 summer school.

The dance will be informal and of the mafineer style. This social has been arranged as the result of much demand on the part of the summer students. Everyone is invited to attend like one big happy family and really have themselves a time.

Bob is dating Curt Curtis and has orchestra for the dance which will begin at 9 p. m.

Student Perry Willie Stevens suggests that there may be a snow-dance like up the "Y" trail, in this office, provided enough interest is shown.

Sorority Delegates Return From Texas

After attending the national convention of the American Home Economics Association in San Antonio, Texas, six members of Gamma Phi Omicron, campus home economics sorority, returned to Provo this week.

Members of the group who were delegates to the convention include Miss Effie Warnick, head of the home economics department, Miss Wilma Thorsrud of Randolph, state president of Utah home economics club, Miss Flora Howard of Huntington, president of Gamma Phi Omicron; Miss Gladys Boswell of Provo, vice president of the sorority; Miss Pauline Burgess of Alpin, former corresponding secretary; and Miss Malmo Delbert of Price. This group was the first ever to represent the Provo home economics sorority at a national convention.

The convention at San Antonio took place on June 19, 20, and 21. A total of 1404 delegates were present from all parts of the nation and from Hawaii.

The Utah group crossed seven states in their 4,000-mile trip to and from the convention. Leaving June 15, they went by way of Colorado, Kansas, and Oklahoma to Texas. During the convention week, they were entertained at the old governor's Palace in San Antonio and at Huisach Bowl at San Jose. They returned via Old Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona, and Utah.

Points of interest visited by the representatives en route home included Ciudad Juarez in Old Mexico, the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, the Painted Desert, Petrified Forest, and Grand Canyon in Arizona.

The 1940 convention of the American Home Economics Association will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, the delegates reported.

Bride's thought as she enters the church: Aisle, altar, hymn.

If you haven't become acquainted with visiting Professor Frey, I would advise you to do so before the quarter is over. I have attended but one of his classes, but during that hour I developed a definite liking and respect for him and his humor.

Y Coed Named Wagon Days Queen in S. L.

Winning over eighty other beauty contestants, Marie Bertelson, comely B. Y. U. coed, was this week selected as the 1939 Covered Wagon Days Queen. She will rule over the annual Salt Lake City celebration which centers around July 24 each year.

Talented both in dancing and drama, Marie Bertelson has taken part here on many programs. While at B. Y. U. she has appeared behind the footlights in "Stage Door," "Emperor Jones," and "Lady of Lyons" of the speech department. Marie Bertelson, whose home is in Marysville, is a sophomore and a member of the Val Norn social unit on the campus.

Single Men Drubbed By Benedicts

Return Game
Slated Tuesday

After receiving a 22-17 drubbing at the hands of the married men last Tuesday night, "Steve" Stevens piloted the married men's team and John Landward directed the single men's team.

With Stevens chucking and Earl in Toller catching, the married men played steady ball. The entire team had a field day at the plate, scoring an average of more than three runs each inning.

For the single men, June Thayne pitched most of the game with Jack Gibb catching. First batting was done by Farrell Collett, who poked out three homers. Thayne himself scored a homer on errors.

The married men ran up a lead of five runs in the second inning which their single rivals were never able to overcome.

When softball is played again next Tuesday, sufficient equipment will be brought for two games so that all who come may play, it is announced.

Sign For Tennis Tourney Next Week

Registration for the men's and women's tennis tournament should be completed by Wednesday afternoon, states social chairman Bob Buswell.

Intention to enter the men's singles or doubles, or else the women's singles, must be signified by signing the list in the hall of the Education building, giving address and telephone number.

Buck Dixon Meets Setback In Colorado

After advancing to the third round of play by virtue of two straight set victories, Fred "Buck" Dixon, general Conger tennis coach, lost a thriller in three sets to sixth seeded Harris Coggeshall in the Colorado open tennis meet at Denver this week. Coggeshall hails from Des Moines, Iowa.

The Y mentor lost the first set to Coggeshall 7-5, but came back to even things up with a 6-3 win in the second. After 22 games, the seeded star managed to pull the match out of the fire with a 12-10 win over "Buck" in the third and deciding set.

In the opening round of the tourney, which boasts such stars as Gene Mako, Davis cup performer, Welby Van Horn, premier coast player and Jack Tidball, former intercollegiate champion, Dixon smashed his way to a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Ben Berk of Denver.

Timpanogos Summit Will Attract Hikers July 14, 15

By David S. Walker

On July 14 and 15 the topmost peaks of the beautiful and lofty Timpanogos will again be the goal of a thousand or more climbers as hiking enthusiasts from all over the western states gather to participate in the 28th annual Timpanogos program and hike. Sponsored by the physical education department of Brigham Young university, the event will be directed by C. J. "Chick" Hart.

The program will begin at 7 p. m., Friday, July 14, with a band concert and variety program at Timpanogos Theatre in Aspen Grove. After the program the 28th Timpanogos bonfire will be lighted by 28 comely B. Y. U. coeds.

Some of the hikers will start out immediately following the lighting of the ceremonial fire while others will sleep and wait for the light of dawn to show them the trail. For those who reach the top, special badges will be given which signify that they are members of the "1939 Timpanogos Summit Club."

It is expected that many of the climbers will take advantage of the abundance of snow on the glacier that extends from the "saddle" to the edge of Emerald Lake and use it for a slide. In the past many of the hikers have returned to the saddle and again just to have the thrill of sliding down the steep glacier.

More Than 5000 Attend

According to the U. S. Forest Service there were 5,772 people in attendance at the pre-hike program at Aspen Grove last year. The actual number to receive Summit Club badges was 866, representing 23 states of the union. Last year a special award was made to Mrs. M. E. Martin of Wilkie, Saskatchewan, Canada, who though 65 years old has her Summit Club pins for each of the last three years.

The traditional summit climb was inaugurated in 1912 by E. L. "Gene" Roberts, then director of physical education at the "Y". For the first few years of the hike the handful of students and townspeople, making the climb packed their bedding and food in the old buggy or hay rack hitched up Old Dobble and went gaily on their way.

The road then went only to North Fork in Provo canyon. From here the groups proceeded on foot to Aspen Grove where the camp was made for the night. Around a glowing bonfire they gathered for an impromptu program of songs and stories.

Timp Hike Nationally Known

Since that time, however, the annual Timp hike has grown to mammoth proportions. It is no longer a single-town enterprise but has reached state-wide and even nationwide importance. Hikers can now drive their cars along a wide well-surfaced road right to the foot of the trail at Aspen Grove where a great amphitheatre, the "Timpanogos Bowl", has been built against the mountain side.

Here the annual program is presented and everyone joins in the pre-hike festivities. Timpanogos "alpenstocks" are presented to distinguished guests which include the oldest man and the oldest woman in attendance, the person arriving for the hike from the greatest distance, and distinguished individuals who

Pardoe, Giles Lose In Tourney

Bill Pardoe, Cougar net star, and Gordon Giles, University of Utah tennis ace, were eliminated from the national intercollegiate tennis championships this week at Haverford, Pa., both suffering third round defeats.

The Y star was beaten 6-0, 6-4, but it took Ronald Lubin, seeded University of Southern California summary to turn the trick. Giles was set back by G. B. Podesta of Princeton 6-4, 6-0.

Pardoe gained the third round by squeaking out at 6-8, 6-3, 7-5 win over Dick Morris of Rice while Giles beat W. Avery of Dartmouth 6-2, 6-0 in the second round.

The stellar doubles combination of Pardoe and Male Booth was eligible to play in the national tourney, but Booth was unable to make the trip due to summer work.

Giles and Pardoe plan to enter about two more tournaments before returning to Utah.

Timid Percy (taking a desperate breath): I have half a mind to kiss you.

Annabelle (wholy, I'll bet): If you had a whole one you'd have done it an hour ago.

The student assembly program this morning was under the direction of Bob Buswell, social chairman, and was comprised of talent of the summer school students.
